DETAILED ACTION

Receipt is acknowledged of the response filed on April 21, 2010, which has been entered in the file.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

1. Claims 1-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Stransky et al. (US 2003/0144939)(hereinafter referred to as 'Stransky') in view of Clapper, Jr. (US 6056289)

Re claims 1-4, 12-14: Stransky teaches a method for accessing to a product comprising a multiplicity of individual tokens such as prepaid card having a unique code that can be scratched-off to reveal the product to be retrieved (paragraph 0006), a content server such as PayTV system providing media content contents associated with unique code to the terminal such as a STB (see paragraphs 0003-0006).

However, Stransky fairly suggest that the prepaid card is a collectable series.

Clapper, Jr. teaches a method f using a voucher wherein the voucher can be a prepaid card that is collectable (see col. 1, line 58- col. 2, line 7).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to incorporate the teachings of Clapper, Jr. to the teachings of Stansky in order to provide collectable items such that users can collect baseball cards in addition to accessing media content.

Re claims 5, 6: The product can be a game, software, etc. (see paragraph 0024),

Re claim 7: The database store the unique code for avoid multiple validating of the code by marking as used, therefore, unique code can be used only once to transmit the media contents (see paragraph 0009),

Re claim 8: The card can be sold in vending machine (not shown),

Re claim 9: The PayTv system can be a satellite TV system (not shown),

Re claim 10, 11, 15, 16: The card can have description of the content and price (see paragraph 0021), and the card can be sold individually or in packs (not shown).

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-16 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

3. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP

Art Unit: 2887

§ 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
